Dr. Jiafang LU is Associate Professor and Acting Head in Department of Education Policy and Leadership, The Education University of Hong Kong (EdUHK). She prides herself on serving as an Associate Director in the Joseph Lau Luen Hung Charitable Trust Asia Pacific Centre for Leadership and Change, a university-level strategic research and development centre established in 2010 at EdUHK. She is committed to applying organizational psychology and behavioral sciences into studying leadership development, school leadership teams, and innovation in educational settings. Cooperative goal interdependence theory and role enrichment perspective have provided overarching themes for her work. She serves as a consulting editor for International Journal of Stress Management and Asia Pacific Journal of Management. She also produces documentary videos about schools and their members to showcase the good work that is happening in education. Dr. LU is enthusiastic about translating her research into practical leadership development applications. Her expertise has provided constructive insights and guidance for fostering effective teamwork and cultivating innovative practices within educational institutions.
