The Faculty stands at the forefront of research in education and psychology. It boasts one of the largest groups of educational researchers, teacher educators, and pioneers in early childhood education in Hong Kong.

The Faculty has internationally recognised expertise in the more traditional areas of education, including curriculum and instruction, educational leadership, special education and early years education, as well as in psychology and international education. It has established new interdisciplinary research themes in capacity building in the teaching workforce, parent and community engagement, equity, ethics and inclusion, and child/youth mental health and wellbeing.

The Faculty of Education and Human Development consists of the following departments/centres:

- Department of Curriculum and Instruction
 - Department of Early Childhood Education
 - Department of Education Policy and Leadership
 - Department of International Education
 - Department of Psychology
 - Department of Special Education and Counselling
 - Centre for Child and Family Science
 - Centre for Educational and Developmental Sciences

The Faculty of Humanities aspires to be a leading faculty in humanities education by contributing to the advancement and dissemination of knowledge. We promote the pursuit of academic knowledge, cross-cultural awareness and intercultural competencies, with a view to nurturing our graduates in a wide spectrum of the humanities. We strive for excellence in research and academic development in order to address issues from a global perspective, to advocate the understanding of human nature, and to impact positively on the well-being of Hong Kong society and beyond.

We are committed to:

- building upon our traditional strengths in Language, Literature and Culture to offer high quality humanities education and interdisciplinary programmes that respond to the demand of humanities disciplines in Hong Kong and beyond;
- providing a comprehensive, humanistic research environment to conduct cutting-edge research, with significant impact in the academic arena locally, regionally and internationally;
- nurturing professionally excellent, ethically responsible and innovative graduates with effective communication skills and multicultural awareness;
- offering students an educational experience that will equip them with the capacity to analyse, synthesise and critically reflect on the knowledge across a wide range of disciplines in the humanities in order to resolve complex problems and to meet future challenges;
- disseminating ideas within the humanities through knowledge transfer and inspiring students intellectually through the offering of a broad range of interdisciplinary courses/programmes; and
- forging stronger partnerships and links within the local community as well as in the regional and international arenas.

The Faculty of Humanities has the following departmental/centre placements:

The Faculty of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences (FLASS) is the faculty with the widest range of academic disciplines at The Education University of Hong Kong. We offer courses in Science and Environmental Studies, Social Sciences, Mathematics, Information Technology, Policy Studies, and Health and Physical Education. In addition, the Faculty offers undergraduate and postgraduate programmes in fields including Geography, Therapeutic Play and Well-being, Business, Accounting and Financial Studies, Artificial Intelligence and Educational Technology, and Sports Science and Coaching.

Apart from programmes designed for first-year entry, we also offer social sciences undergraduate programmes in Social Entrepreneurship and Development Studies, and Sociology and Community Studies designed for direct admissions to senior year. Prospective students may also take the Postgraduate Diploma in Education programmes for both primary and secondary school education.

The faculty adopts a holistic approach to help our students to reach their full potential. To meet the needs of our society and beyond, FLASS provides our students with a comprehensive education, equipping them with the necessary academic knowledge and soft skills for the teaching profession and other career opportunities. We endeavour to build our students' character and broaden their horizons through exchange programmes, internships and overseas study trips.

FLASS strives to conduct impactful research that will enhance the wellbeing of humankind and support our teaching needs. Through our knowledge transfer initiatives, we share our innovative ideas and turn research findings into practical applications that address real-world needs. With the efforts of our dedicated staff and students, the Faculty will continue to do its best to serve our society and beyond.

The Faculty is currently housing a total of four departments and three centres, they are:

- Department of Health and Physical Education

- Department of Mathematics and Information Technology
 - Department of Science and Environmental Studies
 - Department of Social Sciences and Policy Studies

Artificial Intelligence and Digital Competency Education Centre (AIDCEC)

Vision

Artificial Intelligence and Digital Competency Education Centre (AIDCEC) is a professional supporting unit at The Education University of Hong Kong. With dual focuses on AI and digital competency, AIDCEC aims to contribute to the growth and development of the digital economy in a way that is socially responsible and sustainable.

Mission

- Providing education and training: The centre offers courses and training programs to individuals, organisations, and businesses to help them develop their knowledge and skills in the field of AI and digital competency.

- Conducting research: The centre conducts research on AI and digital competency to advance the field and develop new technologies and applications.
- Promoting innovation: The centre encourages innovation by providing resources and support to entrepreneurs and startups working on AI and digital competence-related projects.
- Fostering collaboration: The centre facilitates collaboration between academic institutions, businesses, and government organizations working on AI and digital competency-related initiatives.
- Advocating for ethical and responsible use of AI and emerging digital technologies: The centre promotes ethical and responsible use of AI and emerging digital technologies by developing guidelines and best practices and advocating for their adoption.

Centre for Entrepreneurship and Innovation Education (CEIE)

Centre for Entrepreneurship and Innovation Education (CEIE) is responsible for planning, implementing and co-ordinating Entrepreneurship and Innovation (E&I) education activities for all EdUHK students.

Objectives

To develop students with entrepreneurial and innovative minds who will:

- Understand the potential of applying entrepreneurial skills in education and other professions
- Be able to identify the steps for researching the potential of an innovative idea, as well as resources and steps required for introducing change in education and other professions
- Recognize the importance of creativity and innovation, and be able to carry out needs assessment for innovation in their future occupations
- Display the ability to manage resources needed for their university education and their future occupations
- Be able to communicate new ideas effectively using a variety of media

- Develop ethical and social competencies and capabilities

Centre for Higher Education Leadership and Policy Studies (CHELPS)

Vision

- Create a higher education centre for research, teaching and academic development that is recognised as a leading example of its type in East Asia and internationally;
- Bring together higher education researchers from across the institution creating a critical capacity that fosters greater collaboration among its members and results in high-quality publications;
- Develop global networks, conferences and other events that attract local, regional and international participants;
- Provide academic development and expert advice services to the University that are evaluated internally as high quality and value for time; and
- Build the wider global reputation of the University in respect to higher education leadership and policy studies.

Centre for Chinese Classical Education (CCCE)

Chinese classical learning is a specialised field of study on Chinese traditional culture and the 'five books and six arts' of Confucianism. The following are the priority areas of EdUHK's Centre for Chinese Classical Education (CCCE):

- Seminar series on Chinese classical learning

Presenting a series of seminars on Chinese classical learning in collaboration with different academic departments at the University; and bringing together renowned academics from the four cross-strait regions. These seminars will be open to EdUHK staff and students, as well as members of the public, free of charge.

- Large-scale research project

Conducting a series of research projects led by EdUHK scholars under the theme "Life Education through Chinese Culture and Virtues" to investigate the relationship between Chinese virtues, character building and student learning. The objective is to establish an educational framework to promote Chinese culture and virtues among primary and secondary students.

- Teacher Development Scheme of Five Chinese Classics Core Curriculum in Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macao Greater Bay Area

Promoting Chinese cultural studies with an emphasis on classics, historical figures, etiquette, martial arts and calligraphy across the education sector. There will be a wide range of activities, including teacher-training classes, life education experience tours, study tutorials and inter-school Chinese classical learning competitions across the GBA.

Centre for Chinese and Multilingual Education Development (CCMED)

Centre for Excellence in Learning and Teaching (CELT)

The Centre for Excellence in Learning and Teaching (CELT) is established as a pedagogical professional development centre under the Academy for Educational Development and Innovation (AEDI) of the University. The Centre's vision is to become a major professional development centre in Hong Kong and the Asia Pacific region, taking on a leading role in enhancing educator capacity and teaching effective pedagogies. CELT's mission is to improve classroom learning, develop effective pedagogy and nurture excellent teachers. It aims to heighten teaching and learning effectiveness by embracing teaching innovations that meet ever-changing educational needs. The Centre will cater for diverse learners in all classroom settings in Hong Kong and the Asia Pacific.

CELT will have impact on local, regional and international contexts. Locally, it provides continuous consultancy services, professional development programmes and collaborative projects to schools that empower teachers and students to achieve excellence. Regionally, it develops an in-depth partnership with a large number of schools in the local context; and provides more channels for knowledge transfer activities and dissemination in other places of the Asia Pacific region. Internationally, it increases the level of scholarly activities and collaborations in research, professional training and publications between CELT and higher educational institutions in other countries. This will enhance the development of effective pedagogical practices in Hong Kong and contribute to University research outputs.

Centre for Religious and Spirituality Education (CRSE)

The Centre for Religious and Spirituality Education (CRSE) is a development centre under the Academy for Educational Development and Innovation (AEDI). The Centre was established in 2006 with generous donations from five school-sponsoring religious organisations: Catholic Diocese of Hong Kong, Ching Chung Taoist Association of Hong Kong, Hong Kong Sheng Kung Hui, Sik Sik Yuen and the Hong Kong Buddhist Association. Since 2010, we have established authentic collaborations with different agencies and have received various sponsorships and donations in support of the Centre's projects and initiatives. We look forward to future collaborations with more organisations through innovative, creative and productive channels.

Mission and Tasks of the Centre

1. To promote religious, spirituality, life values and holistic education (especially newly-emerged domains arising from changing social needs and circumstances) to education and related sectors through various programmes and projects, based on professional consolidation of good practices/research;
2. To foster public awareness on the focused education areas, so as to establish critical mass and collaboration with different organisations and stakeholders for further development; and
3. To enkindle policy advocacy through collaborating and synergising with various organisations, especially NGOs and think tanks, to convince both the public and government authorities that Life and Values Education is an essential component of the school curriculum, and eventually achieve related policy changes and support.

The provision of educational programmes, professional projects, and knowledge transfer activities based on existing frameworks and resource management strategies in the post-pandemic context; the optimisation of existing programmes and projects through professional consolidation of good practices in the existing domains; and to further develop a collaborative culture both within the university and beyond to draw on professional strengths and resources that can support the Centre's long term vision and mission.

The Centre also endeavours to promote awareness of and interest, and actions in religious, life education and spirituality issues across the campus and beyond through research and development projects, publications, academic conferences, seminars, and workshops.

The Quiet Room (B3-P-09A), Spiritual Activity Room (B4-P-01) and the Garden in front of the Centre are specially installed for members of the University to conduct spiritual practices or to rejoice in a moment of peace, serenity, and silence.

Institute of Professional and Vocational Education and Lifelong Learning (IPVELL)

Institute of Special Needs and Inclusive Education (ISNIE)

In line with the contextual development, service needs and research practice of inclusive education in Hong Kong, the Institute of Special Needs and Inclusive Education (ISNIE) in the Academy for Education Development and Innovation aims at promoting the betterment of inclusive education through the joint effort of the colleagues, with expertise and research interest in inclusive education as well as special needs, from different departments. The developmental needs of our University, schools and community are expected to be met appropriately in the variety of activities in teaching and learning, research, academic exchange and scholarly activities.

ISNIE takes up the role of research and betterment of inclusion, on the basis of self-financing mode. In recent years, in achieving the aims of advancing inclusion and catering for diversity, we are proud of soliciting colleagues' support, building up the resource centre, supporting school-based staff development, conducting research projects and producing publications. We also build up partnership with international scholars for the diversified professional development, academic exchange, research and international conferences.

Through different enrichment programmes in special needs, we foster the caring attitude of our course participants. To strengthen the training for teachers and teaching assistants in mainstreaming schools and special schools, we support the Education Bureau by coordinating a wide range of special education courses. With external and internal funding, we offer consultancy and school based support; parent training and conduct research in inclusion in local and regional contexts. In these years, we successfully extend our training work to Macau and mainland China.

Xiqu and Intangible Cultural Heritage Centre (XICH)

The predecessor of “Xiqu and Intangible Cultural Heritage Centre” (XICH), The Education University of Hong Kong (EdUHK) was the “Research Centre for Transmission of Cantonese Opera” (RCTCO). Established in 2018, the Centre optimises donations and project fundings to achieve self-financing and self-sufficiency in administrative operations. Grounded in academic research, the latest digital technologies and a network of professional artists and schools, RCTCO has become a focal agency locally and internationally for research, pedagogy, and promotion of Cantonese opera.

In August 2023, the Centre expanded its research, pedagogy, and promotion scope and has been renamed “Xiqu and Intangible Cultural Heritage Centre”, and affiliated to the Academy for Educational Development and Innovation (AEDI) at the Education University of Hong Kong, hoping to promote Chinese culture and heritage more extensively locally and overseas. The Centre inherits the previous direction of promoting Cantonese opera and expands to other Xiqu genres and all intangible cultural heritage projects to promote Chinese traditional culture. Through research and knowledge transfer activities related to Xiqu and intangible cultural heritage inheritance and education, the Centre develops high-quality teaching materials, and promotes the sustainable development of the Xiqu and intangible cultural heritage industry in Hong Kong.

Mission and Vision:

- To actively serve as a hub of Xiqu and intangible cultural heritage in the national and international level, in response to the National “14th Five-Year Plan” for its clear support towards Hong Kong developing into an East-meets-West centre for international cultural exchange;
- To generate new self-financed programmes and activities, collaborated with external organisations;
- To empower schools to promote and transmit Chinese culture and intangible cultural heritage in the school curriculum.
