

CHAN Tsz-ying

Bachelor of Education (Honours) (Chinese Language)

Due to the impact of the pandemic, I have undergone a transformative journey from being a student to emerging as a young leader dedicated to creating new educational opportunities. In my view, education is an enduring aspiration that facilitates the growth of the next generation through the provision of equal opportunity. That is the reason why I am so grateful for all the fruitful experiences in my life that have empowered me to achieve personal growth and development.

As a youth volunteer, I have actively participated in different services and extended a helping hand to underprivileged students by providing them with vital learning support and guidance in life planning.

Apart from the above, I am currently setting up an organisation, namely the Association for the Promotion of Artificial Intelligence in Chinese Teaching, together with students from other universities. We aim to promote the applications of artificial intelligence in Chinese teaching and to foster a collaborative platform for educators to engage and exchange their teaching experiences. In the future, I hope to drive positive changes in society and brighten up the teaching profession by being an outstanding educator.

