

Global Learning In Virtual Experiences (Global LIVES) Information sheet

Introduction

Global LIVES aims to enhance your global awareness and complements your whole person development via virtual service learning activities when travel restriction is still being enforced. The programme will bring you to the less developed countries where media coverage and exposure are relatively much less compared with the more developed places. Service learning opportunities and cultural exchange sessions will be offered to nurture your future leadership qualities. You will be able to interactive with people from some of the least developed countries all over the world.

Programme information

	Programme A – Overseas volunteer teaching in Asia	Programme B – Exploration of educational equity and quality in Africa and Asia	Programme C – Understand the problem of community rebuild and abandoned children in Africa and Europe
Introduction	You will be digital changemakers to create a virtual voluntary teaching project that benefits children aged 8-13 in Laos. Children will learn from you about the world outside their local and rural communities. To help you succeed, training on the local needs and culture, and UN SDGs in relation to the local communities will be provided by the NGO in Laos.	You will gain a first-hand understanding of the real needs in these least developed countries in the world through direct interaction with their local NGOs. To further enhance your learning, global health-focused simulation in an African village will follow after your virtual learning and service.
